General

We at Gyamble respect Your privacy. This Privacy Policy is designed to explain how We collect, use, share, and protect the personal information You provide to Us when You access Our website, purchase Our goods or services, or engage with Us on social media, as well as Your own rights to the information We collect. By visiting, accessing, or using the Gyamble Services, you consent to the policies and practices of this Privacy Policy so please read them carefully. If any policies or practices of this Privacy Policy are unacceptable to you, please do not visit, access, or use the Gyamble Services.

Please read this Privacy Policy carefully. We may change Our Privacy Policy from time to time, and at Our sole discretion. We will alert You to any changes to this Policy by changing the "last updated" date at the top of this Policy and/or via email notification. Any changes become effective immediately upon publication on Our website, and You waive specific notice of any changes to the Policy by continuing to use and access Our site(s). We will not reduce Your rights under this Privacy Policy without Your consent in accordance with applicable law. We encourage You to review this Privacy Policy periodically, when You use Our website for any purpose or engage with Us on social media. You are deemed to have accepted any changes to any revised Privacy Policy by Your continued use of Our website after the revised Privacy Policy is posted.

Information Collected

We collect a variety of information from You when You visit Our website, make purchases, subscribe to emails, subscribe to mobile or SMS messaging, or interact with Us on social media. By accepting this Privacy Policy, You are specifically consenting to Our collection of the data described below, to Our use of the data, to the processing of this data, and to Our sharing of the data with third-party processors as needed for Our legitimate business interests.

14. Assist law enforcement as necessary
15. Prevent fraudulent activity on Our website or mobile app; and
16. Analyze trends to improve Our website and offerings.

International Users

Gyamble is accessible worldwide, information may be transferred, processed, and stored across multiple countries and cloud infrastructure regions. Users (members) are responsible for ensuring compliance with local privacy regulations.

Cross-Border Transfers*: By using the platform, members consent to cross-border transfers of information to countries that may have different data protection standards.

International Data Transfers*: Data may be processed in multiple countries where the platform, vendors, cloud infrastructure, analytics providers, or payment processors operate. Your personal information may be stored and processed in any country, province or state (each a "Country") where we may have facilities or in which we engage third party service providers. As a result, your personal information may be transferred to Countries outside your Country of residence, which may have different data protection rules than in your Country. While such information is outside of your Country, it is subject to the laws of the Country in which it is held, and may be subject to disclosure to the governments, courts or law enforcement or regulatory agencies of such other Country, pursuant to the laws of such Country. However, our practices regarding your personal information will at all times continue to be governed by this Privacy Policy and, if applicable, we will comply with the GDPR requirements of providing adequate protection for the transfer of personal information from the EU/EEA to other countries.

Disclosure of Information

We may share Your information with third-parties in certain situations. In particular, We may share Your data with third-party processors as needed to serve Our legitimate business interests, which include administration of Our website, administration of Your account, entering into contracts with You, communicating with You, taking orders for goods or services, delivering Our goods and services, identifying trends, protecting the security of Our Company and website, and marketing additional goods and services to You. The legal basis for Our disclosure of Your data is both Your Consent to this Privacy Policy and Our own right to protect and promote Our legitimate business interests.

The following are specific reasons why We may share Your information:

Third-Party Processing*: We may disclose Your information to third-parties who assist Us with various tasks, including payment processing, hosting services, email delivery, mobile messaging delivery, and customer service. For more information, see the "Other Third-Parties" Section, below.

By Law*: We may share Your data as required by law or to respond to legal process, including a subpoena, or as necessary to protect the rights, property, and safety of others. This includes sharing information with other parties to prevent or address fraud and to avoid credit risks.

To Protect Our Company*: We may use Your information to protect Our Company, including to investigate and remedy any violations of Our rights or policies. We may also disclose Your information as reasonably necessary to acquire and maintain insurance coverage, manage risks, obtain financial or legal advice, or to exercise or defend against legal claims.

Other Third-Parties*: The platform may contain links to third-party websites or services, Our investors, or other third-parties for the purpose of conducting general business analysis. If We do so, We will make reasonable efforts to inform You if required by law. The platform is not responsible for external privacy practices or third-party content. This Privacy Policy applies to Gyamble's and its platform's services and does not extend to any websites, products, or services provided by third parties. We encourage you to review all third-party privacy policies prior to using third party websites, products or services.

Sale or Bankruptcy*: In the event that Our Company is sold, goes out of business, or enters bankruptcy, Your information may be an asset that is transferred to a third-party successor. Such a successor is not bound by Our Privacy Policy and may have its own. You will be notified in the event Our Company is sold, goes out of business, or enters bankruptcy.

Interaction with Others*: If You interact with others on Our website or mobile app, such as participating in a group chat or a group online course, other users may have access to some of Your data, including Your name, profile picture, and Your history of interaction with Our website, such as prior comments or posts.

External Links*: Our website may include hyperlinks to other websites not controlled by Us. We suggest You exercise caution when clicking on a hyperlink. Although We use reasonable care in including a hyperlink on Our own web page, We do not regularly monitor the websites of these third-parties, are not responsible for any damage or consequences You suffer by using these hyperlinks. We are not bound by the Privacy Policies of any third-party website that You access by a hyperlink, nor are they bound by Ours. We encourage You to read the Policies of those third-party websites before interacting with them or making purchases. They may collect different information and use different methods than We do.

With Your Consent*: We may disclose Your personal information for any other purpose with Your consent.

Other Purposes*: We may disclose Your personal data as necessary to protect Your interests or the vital interests of others or Our Company.

Tracking Technologies

The platform uses cookies, analytics systems/technologies, advertising identifiers, session tracking tools, maintain login security and behavioral tracking systems may be used to improve functionality, personalization, optimize LínMó performance, security, detect suspicious activity and fraud detection.

Cookies, Log Files, and Web Beacons*: Like many other websites, We make use of log files. These files merely log visitors to the site – usually a standard procedure for hosting companies and a part of hosting services' analytics. The information inside the log files includes internet protocol (IP) addresses, browser type, Internet Service Provider (ISP), date/time stamp, referring/exit and possibly the number of clicks. This information is used to analyze trends, administer the site, track users' movement around the site, and gather demographic information. IP addresses and other such information are not linked to any information that is personally identifiable.

We also use cookies—small text files sent to Us by Your computer—and web beacons to store certain information. We may use cookies to authenticate Your identity, to determine if You are logged onto Our website, for personalization, for security, for targeted advertising, or for analysis of the performance of Our website and services. For example, cookies allow Us to recommend blog posts to You based on what You have read on Our site in the past. We use cookies that are not specific to Your account but unique enough to allow Us to analyze general trends and use and to customize Your interaction with Our website.

Most browsers are set to accept cookies by default. In addition, when You first encounter Our website, You will be asked to "consent to cookies." If You wish to disable cookies, You may do so through Your individual browser options. However, this may affect Your ability to use or make purchases from Our website. By continuing to use Our website and not disabling cookies on Your browser, You are consenting to Our use of cookies in accordance with the terms of this Policy.

In addition, We may use third-party software to post advertisements on Our website or mobile app to oversee marketing or email campaigns, mobile messaging campaigns, or manage other Company initiatives. This third-party software may use cookies or similar tracking technology. We have no control over these third-parties or their use of cookies. For more information on opting out of interest-based ads, visit the Network Advertising Initiative Opt-Out Tool or Digital Advertising Alliance Opt-Out Tool.

Website Analytics

The platform may analyze LínMó participation, editing behavior, click patterns, device activity, and interaction metrics to improve performance, platform stability, fraud detection, member experience and prevent abuse. We may partner with third-party analytic companies, including, but not limited to, Google Analytics. The analytic companies may also use cookies or other tracking technologies to analyze visitors' use of Our website or mobile app to determine the popularity of the content and better understand online activity. We do not transfer personal information to these third-party vendors.

Processing Your Information

In most circumstances, We do not process Your information in-house but give it to third-party processors for processing. For example, when PayPal, Stripe or other payment processors takes Your payment information, they are a third-party payment processor. They process Your payment and remit the funds to Us.

We may, from time to time, process Your data internally for legitimate business interests. Our purposes in processing this information are to administer, maintain, and improve Our website and offerings, to enter into contracts with You, to fulfill the terms of those contracts, to keep records of Our transactions and interactions, to be able to provide You with goods and services, to comply with Our legal obligations, to obtain professional advice, and to protect the rights and interests of Our Company, Our customers (including You), and any third-parties. We may process the following data:

1. Data associated with Your account, such as Your name, address, email address, telephone number, and payment information.
2. Data about Your usage of Our website, such as Your IP address, geographical information, and how long You accessed Our website and what You viewed.

3. Data related to Your personal profile, such as Your name, address, profile picture, interests and hobbies, or employment details.
4. Data that You provide Us in the course of using Our services.
5. Data that You post on Our website, such as comments or responses to blogs.
6. Data that You submit to Us when You make an inquiry regarding Our website or offerings.
7. Data related to Your transactions with Us, including Your purchase of Our goods or services. This information may include contact details and payment information.
8. Data that You provide to Us when You subscribe to Our emails, mobile or SMS messaging, or newsletters, including Your email address, telephone number, and contact information.
9. Data that You submit to Us via correspondence, such as when You email Us with questions; and
10. Any other data identified in this Policy, for the purpose of complying with Our legal obligations, or to protect the vital interests of You or any other natural person.

Payment Information and Compliance*: Payment information may be processed by PCI-compliant third-party payment providers. The platform may utilize tokenization, encryption, and fraud screening systems. Members acknowledge that payment transactions processed by third-party providers may subject to additional banking, AML, KYC, sanctions screening, and anti-fraud compliance obligations.

Payment Security*: All payment information is encrypted and stored using tokenized security systems through approved payment processing providers.

Identity Verification Data*: KYC and AML compliance procedures may require collection of passports, national IDs, driver's licenses, proof of address, selfies, biometric verification, sanction checks, or related documentation.

Data Sharing*: Member information will never be sold to third parties. Information may only be shared with payment processors, fraud prevention providers, analytics vendors, cloud providers, shipping providers, legal authorities when required, compliance partners, or logistics providers when necessary.

Data Retention

We retain personal data as long as it is needed to conduct Our legitimate business purposes or to comply with Our legal obligations, or until You ask Us to delete Your data. For example, We will retain certain personal information indefinitely for the purposes of maintaining Your account, unless and until You delete Your account. Data (legal, compliance, anti-fraud, accounting, dispute resolution, enforce agreements, tax, financial, security, and operational purposes in accordance with regulatory obligations and internal retention schedules) that We gather for a specific and particular purpose, such as assisting law enforcement or analyzing trends, will not be kept for longer than is necessary for that particular purpose. Data that is no longer needed by Us for any of the purposes listed above will be permanently deleted.

You may request that We delete Your data at any time. However, note that We cannot control the retention policies of third-parties. If You wish to have any third-parties, including those to whom We've transmitted Your data, delete that data, You will need to contact those third parties directly. You may request from Us a list of all third-parties to whom We have transmitted Your data.

Minors

Our website is intended solely for users who can form legally binding contracts under applicable law and are of legal age of majority in their place of residence. By using the site, You represent and warrant that You can form a legally binding contract under applicable law and are of legal age of majority where You reside, and that You agree to abide by all of the terms and conditions of this Privacy Policy. This website is not designed for use by children under the age of 18, and We do not knowingly solicit personal data from anyone under the age of 18. If You are under the age of 18, do not access or use Our website or related products or services. If we learn that personal information has been collected on the Gyamble's platform from persons who are underage, then we will take the appropriate steps to delete this information and account.

Your Rights

You have certain rights with respect to Your personal data, as outlined within this Privacy Policy. We may charge You a reasonable fee for actions that You ask Us to take with respect to Your data. We also reserve the right to request that You provide Us with evidence of Your identity before We take any action with respect to the exercise of Your data rights. Further, Your rights may be restricted or nullified to the extent they conflict with Our compelling business interests, the public interest, or the law. Depending on jurisdiction, members may request access, correction of inaccurate data, automated decisions, consent, export, restriction, or deletion where permitted by law of personal information subject to regulatory exceptions.

Update Account Information: You have the right to update or change any information You have provided to Us. To update or delete Your information, please contact Us at: gyamblesyaji@gmail.com

Confirm Personal Data and Its Use: You have the right to request that We confirm what data We hold about You, and for what purposes. You also have the right to confirm whether We process Your data or deliver Your data to third-party processors, and for what purposes. We will supply You with copies of Your personal data, unless doing so would affect the rights and freedoms of others.

Change Consent: You have the right to change Your consent to Our use of Your information. In such cases, We may require You to delete Your account with Us, as described above, and You may not have full access to Our website.

Opt-Out of Communications: If You do not wish to receive marketing communications from Us, You can unsubscribe via the link in an email You have received, or You can unsubscribe via mobile or SMS messaging by replying "STOP" to a mobile message You have received.

Request a Copy of Data: You have the right to request a digital copy of the data that We hold about You. Your first request for a copy of Your personal data will be provided free of charge; subsequent requests will incur a reasonable fee.

Transfer Your Data: You have the right to request that We gather and transfer Your data to another controller, in a commonly used and machine-readable format, unless doing so would cause Us an undue burden.

Delete All Data: You have the right to request that We delete all data that We hold about You, and We must delete such data without undue delay. There are exceptions to this right, such as when keeping Your data is required by law, is necessary to exercise the right of freedom of expression and information, is required for compliance with a legal obligation, or is necessary for the exercise or defense of legal claims. Such a request may result in a termination of Your account with Us and You may have limited or no use of Our website.

Marketing Communications: You may opt-out of receiving any third-party marketing communications or having Your personal information used for marketing purposes.

Processing: In some circumstances, You may restrict the processing of Your data, such as when You contest the accuracy of Your data or when You have objected to processing, pending the verification of that objection. When processing has been restricted, We will continue to store Your data but will not pass it on to third-party processors without Your consent, or as necessary to comply with legal obligations or protect Your rights or those of others or Our Company. In addition, You may opt-out of any processing of Your data altogether. Doing so may result in the termination of Your account and loss of access to Our website.

Complaints: You have the right to complain to a supervising authority if You believe We are misusing Your data or have violated any of Your rights under this Privacy Policy or applicable law.

Newsletters and Email Marketing

You may volunteer certain information to Us that is used for email marketing purposes, such as newsletters and other promotional emails. This information includes, but is not limited to, Your name and email. You can unsubscribe from any future communications via email, but We reserve the right to maintain a database of past email subscribers. We reserve the right to use this information as reasonably necessary in Our business and as provided by law. Your information may be shared with reasonably necessary parties for the ordinary course of conducting Our business.

Data Breach Procedures

Gyamble may implement encryption, intrusion detection, access controls, tokenization, monitoring systems, access control systems, and vendor security assessments to protect data:

We take all reasonable steps to protect Your personal data and keep Your information secure. We use recognized online secure payment systems and implement generally accepted standards of security to protect against personal data loss or misuse, theft, unauthorized access, disclosure, copying, use or modification. We take your privacy very seriously and may implemented physical, organizational and technological security measures with a view to protecting your personal information. In particular, we encrypt the Gyamble website with SSL; we periodically review information collection, storage, and processing practices; and we restrict access to your information on a need-to-know basis for our employees, contractors, and agents who are subject to strict contractual confidentiality obligations and may be disciplined or terminated if they fail to meet these obligations. However, no security measure is foolproof, and no method of data transmission can be guaranteed against interception or misuse. We cannot guarantee complete security of any information You transmit to Us.

By consenting to this Privacy Policy, You acknowledge that Your personal data may be available, via the internet, around the world. We cannot prevent the use or misuse of Your data by other parties.

In the unlikely event customer data has been lost, stolen, or potentially compromised, Our practice is to alert Our customers via email after Our Company becomes aware of the event. We will also report such incidents to any required data protection authority. We will work closely with any customers affected to determine next steps such as any end-user notifications, needed patches, and how to avoid any similar event in the future.

Notice to California Residents

Residents of California may have certain rights regarding Your personal information under the California Privacy Rights Act (CPRA) and the California Consumer Privacy Act (CCPA). If applicable, Company will provide You with the categories of personally identifiable information that is collected through this website and the categories of third-party entities with whom such personal information may be used at Your request. California law allows You to control who We can and cannot share Your personal information with. To obtain any information You are entitled to under California law, please send a request by email to: gyamblesyaji@gmail.com. There is no charge for requesting this information from Company.

International Privacy and GDPR Disclaimer

This website's servers are located within the United States. Thus, if You are visiting this website from outside the United States, You understand and agree that You are transferring your information to the United States and that your information will be stored and processed in the United States.

If You are located in the European Economic Area ("EEA"), We process Your personal data in accordance with the GDPR. This means We only process Your information when We have a valid legal basis to do so, such as when You've given consent, when it's necessary to fulfill a contract with You, when We are legally required to, or when We have a legitimate business reason to do so (like developing and improving Our services or keeping Our website secure). With Your prior consent, it may also be used to send You custom offers and promotions (where applicable). We may share Your information with trusted third-party service providers to help Us run Our business, such as email platforms, payment processors, etc. We are dedicated to remaining compliant with GDPR regulations when it comes to individuals it applies to. Your personal data is primarily used to provide You with the services and products You opt in to.

Because We are based in the United States, Your data may be transferred outside of the EEA. Where personal data is transferred outside of the EEA, We rely on appropriate safeguards to protect Your information, which may include participation in the EU-US Data Privacy Framework (where applicable) or other approved methods under applicable data protection laws.

If the GDPR applies to You, You have certain rights under the GDPR when it comes to Your personal data. These include, but are not necessarily limited to, the right to request access to, correction of, or deletion of Your personal data, to change Your marketing preferences, and the right to restrict or object to certain processing activities and the right to data portability. You also have the right to withdraw consent at any time, where processing is based on consent.

To obtain any information regarding what rights You are entitled to under the GDPR, or to exercise any of the rights listed above, please contact Us at: gyamblesyaji@gmail.com. There is no charge for requesting this information from Company.

Jurisdiction Restrictions

Platform services may be restricted in certain jurisdictions.

Communication Consent

Members consent to receive transactional emails, SMS alerts, push notifications, LínMó reminders, security alerts, and operational communications with the use of Gyamble's platform.

AI & Algorithmic Systems

LínMó optimization systems, fraud detection tools, analytics systems, recommendation engines, and moderation tools may utilize automated or AI-assisted technologies.

Changes to Privacy Policy

The platform may modify this Privacy Policy periodically. Continued use after updates constitutes acceptance of revised terms.
